

POINTERS ON THE RACES.

FRANCIS NOLAN'S FUNERAL.

The Great Eastern Handicap Will Be the Day's Feature.

Hard to Pick the Winner—Guttenburg Tips.

The Great Eastern Handicap, for two-year-olds, is the feature of the racing at Sheepshead Bay to-day. It was expected that Dobbins and Senator Grady would meet in this event, and the non-appearance of those cracks will no doubt cause considerable disappointment.

Nevertheless, the race will be a very interesting contest. Henry of Navarre, Peter the Great, Jack of Spades, John Cooper, Gailey, St. Julian, Longdale, Sir Excess, Amerie, Wernher and other good ones go. The weights are nicely adjusted and the winner is hard to pick.

The September Stakes, for three-year-olds, will send Sir Walter, Sir Francis, Bassettaw, Comanche, Restrain, Columbus, Young Arion and Wormser to the post.

Diable, Candelabra, and Count will have a three-cornered duel in the second race at a mile and a furlong, and the opening dash of seven furlongs looks as though it would be a very interesting event. The entries and selections are as follows:

First Race.—A sweepstakes of $10 each, with $600 added; one mile and a furlong.

1894 M. E. Dwyer's Standard..... 114
1895 R. A. Swigert's Michigan..... 114
1896 King Neptune's Tilly Blackmore..... 107
1897 Ingoldsby's Star Paragon..... 107
1898 W. J. Jennings' Harry Stone..... 107
1899 G. F. Hayes' Starlet..... 107
1900 P. F. O'Brien's Starlet..... 107
1901 G. F. Hayes' Starlet..... 107
1902 G. F. Hayes' Starlet..... 107
1903 G. F. Hayes' Starlet..... 107
1904 G. F. Hayes' Starlet..... 107

Sir Matthew showed in his race yesterday that he had all his speed. If he starts to-day he ought to win. Bassettaw, Comanche, Restrain, Columbus, and Highland ought to beat the others.

Second Race.—A handicap sweepstakes of $20 each, with $1,000 added; one mile and a furlong.

1895 J. H. & F. P. Keene's Caudillo..... 103
1896 W. W. Rogers' Best Friend..... 102
1897 W. W. Rogers' Best Friend..... 102
1898 W. W. Rogers' Best Friend..... 102
1899 W. W. Rogers' Best Friend..... 102
1900 W. W. Rogers' Best Friend..... 102
1901 W. W. Rogers' Best Friend..... 102
1902 W. W. Rogers' Best Friend..... 102
1903 W. W. Rogers' Best Friend..... 102
1904 W. W. Rogers' Best Friend..... 102

Sir Matthew showed in his race yesterday that he had all his speed. If he starts to-day he ought to win. Bassettaw, Comanche, Restrain, Columbus, and Highland ought to beat the others.

Delegations from the following organizations attending in honor of the funeral, most of them residing in Brooklyn: Board of Eleventh Ward Democratic Association, Fourteenth Ward Republican Association, Lawrence E. Carroll Association, the Nineteenth Ward, Friends Club of the Thirteenth Ward, David B. Hill club of the Fifteenth Ward, and the similar organizations headed by Mr. Edward S. Scott, surrounded the hearse as it passed to Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Josephine Lindner, a widow, fifty-six years old, lived with her stepdaughter, Mrs. Adolph Blaha, at No. 1399 on that thoroughfare. At 6 A. M. yesterday she was crossing the street to her home. When she had nearly reached the curb she was knocked down by a horse and sulky driven by William Condon, aged eighteen years and living at No. 1399. The sulky of the driver, which was the same of the stableman, generated her breast, breaking three ribs, passing through her left lung and out of her back. She was treated by Dr. George L. Johnson, surgeon to the station, and sent to the hospital. When she was discharged from her terrible position she was found to be dead.

The sergeant immediately ordered Police-Chef Charles O'Brien to bring young Condon to him.

Mr. Josephine Lindner, a widow, fifty-six years old, lived with her stepdaughter, Mrs. Adolph Blaha, at No. 1399 on that thoroughfare. The woman's receipt book shows that the 20-cent premiums were paid from October, 1891, until July 18, 1893. Then, for some unexplained reason, the collector did not call. Mrs. O'Brien insists that she was ready to pay when called upon. She consulted a neighbor, and on advice notified the company, Aug. 11, an assistant superintendent called and told her the policies had lapsed for non-payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11, 1893.

Received from Kate O'Brien $1.00 being deposited with revival application of this policy, deposited in the office of the Company. No application is incurred by said company on account of this deposit. If application is accepted, the premium will be paid in accordance with the warrant issued, which date the undermentioned will pay the money to the company upon the payment of premiums, but for $1.00 he would file an application for revival. This would be duly considered. That was all that could be done, he said. Mrs. O'Brien paid him the $1.00 and he left the following receipt:

Aug. 11,